

Sheldwich Primary School and Little Hedgehogs Pre-School

Pre-School Missing Child Policy

Policy statement

Children's safety is our highest priority, both on and off the premises. Every attempt is made, through the implementation of our outings procedure and our exit/entrance procedure, to ensure the security of children is maintained at all times. In the unlikely event of a child going missing, our missing child procedure is followed.

Procedures

Child going missing on the premises

- As soon as it is noticed that a child is missing, the child's key person/the relevant member of staff alerts our Early Years Teacher.
- The register is checked to make sure no other child has also gone astray.
- Our Early Years Teacher will carry out a thorough search of the building and garden.
- Doors and gates are checked to see if there has been a breach of security whereby a child could wander out.
- If the child is not found, a member of the Sheldwich office staff team will call the police immediately and report the child as missing. If it is suspected that the child may have been abducted, the police are informed of this.
- The parent(s) are then called and informed.
- A recent photo and a note of what the child is wearing is given to the police.
- The Early Years Teacher will talk to our staff to find out when and where the child was last seen and record this.
- The Early Years Teacher contacts our Head Teacher and reports the incident. Our Headteacher comes to the provision immediately to carry out an investigation, with our Early Years Teacher.

Child going missing on an outing

- As soon as it is noticed that a child is missing, the staff members on the outing ask children to stand with their designated carer and carry out a headcount to ensure that no other child has gone astray.
- One staff member searches the immediate vicinity but does not search beyond that.
- Our Early Years Teacher on the outing contacts the police and reports that child as missing.
- Our Head Teacher is contacted immediately (if not on the outing) and the incident is recorded.
- Our office staff contacts the carers/parent(s).
- Our staff take the remaining children back to the setting as soon as possible.
- According to the advice of the police, the Early Years Teacher should remain at the site where the child went missing and wait for the police to arrive.
- A recent photo and a description of what the child is wearing is given to the police.
- Our Early Years Teacher contacts our Head Teacher and reports the incident. Our Head Teacher comes to the Pre-School Classroom to carry out an investigation with the Early Years Teacher.
- Our staff keep calm and do not let the other children become anxious or worried.

The investigation

- Ofsted are informed as soon as possible and kept up-to-date with the investigation.
- Our Head Teacher carries out a full investigation, taking written statements from all our staff and volunteers who were present.
- Our Head teacher, together with our Early Years Teacher, speaks with the carers/parent(s) and explains the process of the investigation.
- The carers/parent(s) may also raise a complaint with us or Ofsted.
- Each member of staff present writes an incident report detailing:
 - The date and time of the incident.
 - Where the child went missing from e.g. the setting or an outing venue.

- Which staff/children were in the premises/on the outing and the name of the staff member who was designated as responsible for the missing child.
- When the child was last seen in the premises/or on the outing, including the time it is estimated that the child went missing.
- What has taken place in the premises or on the outing since the child went missing.
- The report is counter-signed by the Early Years Teacher and the date and time added.
- A conclusion is drawn as to how the breach of security happened.
- If the incident warrants a police investigation, all our staff co-operate fully. In this case, the police will handle all aspects of the investigation, including interviewing staff and parents. Children's social care may be involved if it seems likely that there is a child protection issue to address.
- In the event of disciplinary action needing to be taken, Ofsted are advised.
- The insurance provider is informed.

Managing people

- Missing child incidents are very worrying for all concerned. Part of managing the incident is to try to keep everyone as calm as possible.
- Our staff will feel worried about the child, especially the key person or the designated carer responsible for the safety of that child for the outing. They may blame themselves and their feelings of anxiety and distress will rise as the length of time the child is missing increases.
- They may be the understandable target of parental anger and they may be afraid. Our Head Teacher ensures that any staff under investigation are not only fairly treated, but receive support while feeling vulnerable.
- The parents will feel angry, and fraught. They may want to blame our staff and may single out one staff member over others; they may direct their anger at our Early Years Manager. When dealing with a distraught and angry parent, there should always be two members of staff one of whom is our Early Years Teacher and the other should be our Head Teacher. No matter how understandable the parent's anger may be, aggression or threats against our staff are not tolerated, and the police should be called.
- The other children are also sensitive to what is going on around them. They too may be worried. Our remaining staff caring for them need to be focused on their needs and must not discuss the incident in front of them. They should answer children's questions honestly, but also reassure them.
- In accordance with the severity of the final outcome, our staff may need counselling and support. If a child is not found, or is injured, or worse, this will be a very difficult time. Our Head Teacher will use their discretion to decide what action to take.
- Our staff must not discuss any missing child incident with the press without taking advice.

Reviewed by AA: September 2024
To be reviewed: September 2026